Valentine Cards to Color

Color the four cards. Cut them apart on the dashed lines. Write who each card is for and sign your name after "From", or ask a grown-up to write it dotted so you can trace it.

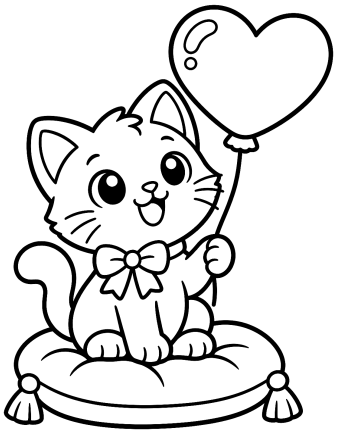

Beary sweet!

💡 For grown-ups: why it works. Signing their own name is the most meaningful writing practice there is, and four cards means four tries. Giving a card they made themselves teaches kindness in a way children can see. For little ones, write the name lightly in highlighter and let them trace over it.
